Purpose of the League

The University Interscholastic League was created by the University of Texas at Austin in 1910 through the Extension Bureau to provide leadership and guidance to public school debate and athletics teachers. After approval from the University of Texas, the UIL's two parent organizations - the Debating League of Texas and the Interscholastic Athletic Association - became operational.

In 1913, the Debating League and the Athletic Association merged to form the University Interscholastic League, which was centered in the Bureau of Public School Services, then part of the University of Texas Extension Division. Today, the League continues to operate as part of the University of Texas, under the auspices of the Office of the Vice President for Diversity and Community Engagement.

The UIL has grown into the largest interschool organization of its kind in the world, offering more than 70 events. The voluntary membership, non-profit organization exists to provide educational extracurricular academic, athletic and music contests. For a century, the UIL has helped mold the leaders of tomorrow, and it will continue to do so into the next century.

The purpose of the UIL is to organize and properly supervise contests that assist in preparing students for citizenship. It aims to provide healthy, character building, educational activities carried out under rules providing for good sportsmanship and fair play for all participants.

FACT: Music contests had been added in 1940, but were suspended that same year due to WWII. They would not resume until 1946.

FACT: Girl's basketball was officially added in 1951 as a half court game, decades before Title IX. It was later changed to full-court basketball in 1978.

When the UIL was first formed, it was composed of one athletic event, and one academic event. It now has more than 70 events to choose from, making it the largest organization of its kind in the world.

The next two pages are dedicated to the stories of past and present participants. These stories show the positive effects of extracurricular activities on participants. We are proud to have built an organization that has created opportunities for so many people across the state in the last century, and look forward to giving new students these same opportunities in the UIL's next 100 years.

Student Activities Conference, 1960

"UIL prepared me for the things that I never expected I would do with my life. I participated in LD Debate, Persuasive Speaking primarily. I went to college and earned an engineering degree, never expecting when I left high school that someday I would be an attorney. Today, not only am I an attorney, but I do specialized litigation work and have argued before the Court of Appeals regarding construction issues. I don't think I could do my job on a daily basis if it was not for the experiences I had with UIL."

Boys Golf State Tournament, year unknown

"What could be better than winning a state championship for your school and hometown? As my team celebrated on the field after winning state in 1999, I thought there could be no greater satisfaction. It had all been worth it - the long hot practices, hitting balls and then more balls, the bus rides, the squabbles, the pressure, the aches, the pains, the injuries. This was definitely the height of my career. We had come and we had conquered. But amid all the tears and hoopla, the players made their way to me and I fully realized the joy of coaching. They gathered round, hugging and crying on my shoulders. It seemed as if each one wanted to tell me 'we did it coach.' I still remember every out and hit of that game, but what I remember most is sharing the victory with the players. They impacted my life and I hope I impacted theirs."

"My father suffered a brain injury in 1980. I started eighth grade Number Sense with Milton O'Conner in 1981. He took me and developed me into a math machine. He became like a father to me. We even did math three days a week each summer. My freshman year I went to state in number sense where I did not place. Mr. O said later that day it was his last year to teach, he was retiring. He was 65, 50 years older than me. I begged him to teach three more years until he retired... he did. He announced his retirement at my high school graduation in 1985 with me standing by his side with his arm around me. I loved this man and thanks to number sense I was able to grow close to him. He developed me through our mutual love of math into a scholar and a good man. My nephew in Forsan now does junior high number sense and my two daughters are starting it in fourth and fifth grades in Dripping Springs. Thank you for making number sense available, it changed my life. Mr. O passed away in January 2002."

"I come from the country; the most rural of rural areas, Yantis, Texas population 312. Our Conference A school offered every UIL event from academics to athletics... and I participated in everything from sixth grade until State Meet in May of 1999 when I graduated. If it weren't for UIL, I never would have had a venue to showcase my talents in reading, drama or athletics. UIL One-Act Play led to a scholarship in drama and then a BFA in Performance and an MA in Communication. That led me to becoming a drama and speech instructor who was able to lead students at MacArthur High School to State Meet in One-Act Play and Debate. I owe the UIL quite a bit, as it has been a guiding light to my academic endeavors and talents over the years. I hope to continue to give back time, energy and passion in the coming years to the organization that helped me grow from "small town Texas" to the man and educator I am now. Thanks, UIL. You have been a blessing in my life and to the lives of many others that I know and love."

-Philip Morgan, Yantis HS class of 1999

"My experience participating in the UIL State Track Meet was likely one of the greatest childhood experience as it represented a feeling of experiencing the utter joy of winning after suffering from an agonizing loss. Particularly, I recall my utter disappointment on the medal stand as we were awarded silver medals after finishing second (and failing to defend our championship) by tenths of a second in the 1600M-relay. During an interview with the Port Arthur News immediately following the awards ceremony, I recall stating that we would work hard to return, but this time would leave as state champions. The following year those words proved prophetic as the 1600M-relay quartet from Port Arthur Lincoln did in fact return to the state meet. Not only did we win the gold medal, but broke the Class 4A record in the process. I am most proud to say this record stood intact for over 15 years."

-Todd Vaughn, Port Arthur Lincoln HS class of 1987

The Finest, The Strongest

Virtually every UIL contest has been used as a standard by which excellence is judged nationally and internationally. While many states only offer athletic competition for their students, the UIL offers the most comprehensive literary and academic program in the nation. The UIL Prescribed Music List is recognized internationally as one of the most comprehensive music repertoire lists in existence.

There are more than 70 events students can compete in athletically, creatively and intellectually. The UIL is so highly respected that each year outside groups ask the UIL to sponsor contests so they can take advantage of the UIL structure and guidance.

The UIL has been able to enjoy the expertise of many of the nation's finest educators, who serve as judges and contest directors, and have access to university resources. This means that participants are able to use some of the finest facilities the state has to offer.

I commend these outstanding educators.

-Dr. Charles Breithaupt, UIL Executive Director

The winners were selected by a panel of judges in the areas of music, athletics, and academics from nominations submitted by school principals and superintendents across the state.

The award, now in its 18th year, was created to identify and recognize outstanding sponsors who enable students to develop and refine their extracurricular talents to the highest degree possible within the educational system.

$23 million and counting...

The Texas Interscholastic League Foundation was founded by Rodney J. Kidd, former UIL Director, and planted the idea of giving scholarships to the academically talented when there were not many scholarships available to the academically talented.

The TILF has given more than $23 million since its development in 1959 to more than 16,000 Texas high school students who have competed in the UIL's Academic State Meet. This year alone, the foundation is awarding more than $1 million in scholarships to 605 students.

The UIL administration, the UIL member school's administrators, coaches, sponsors, directors and especially the students and their parents say thank you to all TILF donors. The TILF has more than $8 million in endowed funds and receives direct scholarship grants each year of more than $800,000 from foundations throughout Texas. These grants have proven decisive in many students' educational careers. Many students would not or could not attend the college or university of their choice without the financial assistance TILF provides. An Illustrated History of 100 Years of Service to Texas Schools

This coffee table book, written by former UIL academic and journalism director Bobby Hawthorne, outlines the UIL's humble beginnings and its rise through the grassroots of Texas to become the largest interschool organization of its kind in the world. From the early days of the county meets to the 21st century state championships, the UIL has stood firm in its belief that educational competition will provide the groundwork for the future of Texas.
